Roughly twenty years ago, Dan Jurgens introduced Booster Gold to the world. As the writer and artist of the series, Jurgens established Booster's corner of the DC Universe, borrowing heavily from the lush depth the DCU provides. Things being what they are, Jurgens found himself drawing the second (and current) volume of "Booster Gold" to fit the story from Geoff Johns and Jeff Katz. As Geoff and Jeff chose to move on, Jurgens took the opportunity to captain Booster's stories as both writer and artist. This issue is Jurgens first issue in both roles. This issue is a variant of Booster Gold (DC, 1986 series) #15 [Direct]. On-sale date from DC Releases #35. [no title indexed] (Table of Contents).
